Magnetic

pole | Circuit | Static electricity | Electrical Charge

Magnetic field | Attract | Repel | Magnetism

_____ one of the two ends of a magnet where the magnetic force is strongest _____ is the area around a magnet where its force can attract or repel

_____ The ability of an object to push or pull on another object that has magnetic property _____ is made of material that can attract objects made of iron, cobalt, steel and nickel

_____ The property of matter that causes electricity.

_____ Objects that push each other away.

_____ A buildup of electrical charge.

_____ is a path that is made of parts that work together to allow current to flow.

_____ Objects that pull each other away.

LIVEWORKSHEETS