

PRESENT SIMPLE

be- present simple: positive & negative

☺ + verb to be + C

- We use the verb be to talk about people, things, animals and places.
- We can use subject pronouns (I, you, he, she, it, we, they) before the verb. This shows which person we are talking about. The verb comes after the subject pronoun.
- We often use the short form when we talk. We use it when we write to friends and family.
- Be careful! In the short form, we join the subject pronoun and the verb (be) in one word (e.g. she is = she's). We use an apostrophe in the place of missing letters.

positive (short forms)	negative (short forms)	positive (full forms)	negative (full forms)
I'm	I'm not	I am	I am not you're	you aren't	you are	you are not he's/she's/it's	he/she/it isn't	he/she/it is	he/she/it is not we're	we aren't	we are	we are not they're	they aren't	they are	they are not

We often use the full form when we write, especially in essays or important letters.

be- present simple: questions

- To make questions with be, we start with the verb (am, is, are) before the subject pronoun (I, you, he, she, etc.)
- It is -> Is it?
