

Match the lines (a-i) to make a dialogue with the lines (1-10) below.

Read the dialogue out with a partner. Act it out in pairs.

DAVID

- a See you.
- b So what do you want from me?
- c Teenage problems. "I've been in love with this girl but I don't know how to tell her..."
- d Or, "I've got bad skin problems. Please help!" It all sounds boring.
- e D - V - D - H - D. And mode is m - o - d - e, silly. Don't panic.
- f What chat show?
- g Do you see the DVD HD mode button?
- h A what? How do you spell it?
- i Press it together with the red button to start the recording. Is anything happening?

EMILY

- 1 Hi David. I can't start my recorder.
And I have this chat show at five.
- 2 Well, the host is a famous teenage psychologist.
- 3 And the kids write anonymous questions.
- 4 No, it's a great show. I haven't missed a single one yet. And I have my French class at five. Help!
- 5 Tell me which buttons to press to get it started.
- 6 Come on, it's urgent.
- 7 The what button?
How do you spell it?
- 8 OK, I've found it. What now?
- 9 David, you saved my life. You're an angel!
- 10 Ugh, I've never been good at spelling, but here you are:
A - n - g - e - l. See you at school tomorrow.
