Task 2: Read the text and choose the correct answer.The Great Wall of China

The Great Wall of China is one of the most famous landmarks in the world. It was built more than 2,000 years ago during the Qin Dynasty to protect China from attacks by nomadic groups from the north. Over the years, different Chinese dynasties, such as the Han and Ming Dynasties, added to the wall, making it longer and stronger. Today, the Great Wall stretches for about 13,000 miles across northern China. The wall was built using many different materials. In some areas, stone and brick were used, while in other places, workers used earth and wood. The wall wasn't just for defense; it also served as a way to mark the borders of China and helped control the trade routes along the Silk Road, which was a network of paths used by traders to transport goods.

In the past, the Great Wall helped protect China from invaders, but today it is a popular tourist destination. Many parts of the wall have been carefully restored and are open to visitors. Some sections, like Badaling, are equipped with modern facilities to make visiting easier. The Great Wall is also a UNESCO World Heritage site, which means it is recognized for its historical and cultural importance.
