WHY ONLINE LEARNING IS THE FUTURE OF EDUCATION

4.1.

Online education enables the teacher and the student to set their own learning pace. As a result, using an online educational platform allows for a better balance of work and studies, so there's no need to give anything up. Studying online teaches you time management skills, which makes finding a good work-study balance easier.

4.2.

In a space as huge as the internet, there are infinite skills and subjects to teach and learn. A growing number of universities and higher education schools have online versions of their programs for various levels and disciplines. From music composition to physics, there are options for every type of student.

4.3.

Online education enables you to study or teach from anywhere in the world. This means there's no need to commute from one place to another, or follow a strict schedule. The virtual classroom is also available anywhere there's an internet connection, and a good way to take advantage of this is to travel. The costs may vary but there's no reason to give up on working or studying while exploring new and exotic places.

4.4.

Unlike in-person education methods, online education tends to be more affordable. There's also often a wide range of payment options that let you pay in instalments or per class. This allows for better budget management. Many of you may also be subject to discounts or scholarships, so the price is rarely high. You can also save money from the commute and class materials, which are often available for free.

Zadanie 5. (0-7)

Przeczytaj cztery teksty (A-D) związane z bieganiem. Wykonaj zadania 5.1.-5.7. zgodnie z poleceniami.

Tekst A

THE RUN-WALK METHOD

The Run-Walk Method is a great way for new runners to get started and for experienced runners to improve their race times. The technique doesn't mean walking when you're tired; it means taking short walk breaks when you're not. You can pick whatever ratio of walking and running that works for you. Some suggested combinations include:

LEVEL	RUN	THEN WALK	REPEAT
BEGINNERS	10–30 seconds	1–2 minutes	for the duration of your run
INTERMEDIATE	1–5 minutes	1–2 minutes	for the duration of your run
EXPERIENCE	6–8 minutes	30 seconds to 1 minute	for the duration of your run

Tekst B

COLOUR ME CRAZY

Where: Central Park

When: September 5

Price: $20

What's included in the price?

- Event T-shirt
- Finisher's Medal
- Warm-up with Fit with Frank
- Selection of free colour pouches
- Race village with a DJ, food & drinks, and more
- 8 colour stations
- Free official event photography

Run, walk or dance your way through those five kilometres – as long as you're moving – before crossing the finish line to enter an explosive Colour Party. With every kilometre you complete in your white race t-shirt, you'll get splashed with powder, so by the end you'll look like you have been swimming in a sea full of rainbows. Awesome fun.

Tekst C

A good pair of running shoes is worth the investment. So we decided to organize a running shoes exhibition at Sports Centre in Brooks for the first time ever on 29th and 30th August (Friday and Saturday).

Visit the shop (located on the first floor), try a pair of running shoes, run on the treadmill and get the experience. We will also do you a foot analysis on a special machine and recommend the best running shoes!

With every pair of running shoes that you buy, you'll get a 40% discount on other running gear, such as T-shirts, jackets, leggings, hairbands, backpacks and more.

Tekst D

We were glowing all the way, cheered on by spectators and covered in colour dust. My group was quite nervous at the beginning. We all thought we would be walking most of it – none of us really trained for it! But we left the start line with lots of laughter and cheers, and managed to finish the run in a decent time (around 30 minutes on average). What we didn't realise was that it was actually quite hard to run much faster, as the road was filled with glowing and cheering neon fairies – other runners. So you just kind of ran along with the pack.

The first hit of colour came by surprise, I saw it in the distance, but didn't quite realise there was someone right next to me throwing colour as well! I had to slow down a bit to catch my breath, and was overtaken by a little kid and we were all cheering him on.

Afterwards there was food, music, disco lights and fun! My group found each other – which was hard as everyone looked the same – and took some great photos!

Hi Sarah,

I'm writing to you because you've told me that you'd like to start running. Well, I think I have a perfect event that we can both take part in as beginners. It's called Colour Me Crazy and the idea is fun and simple – you have to run on the distance of 5.4. _____

_____ and while you're running people throw colourful powder on you. I saw somebody's pictures from the last year and it looks so much fun! The organizers have written that you can walk or even dance, but I'd like to run. That's why I have to practice. I've already found a great practice method – it's called The Run-Walk method and for us (because we haven't practiced before) it'll involve running for maximum of 5.5. _____

_____ and then walking for one to two minutes.

I also need some good 5.6. _____, because I don't have any. But I'll have a chance to buy them this Saturday. The sports shop in the Sports Centre will have great offers and discounts on other gear, too! If you'd like to come with me, we can meet in front of the shop (you can find it on the 5.7. _____
_____ of the Sports Centre) at 1 p.m.

Let me know what you think about my ideas!

Love,

Lucy

KAYLA'S HOLIDAY SURPRISE

After the final bell rang, the students were reminded that there was no school on Monday. "Enjoy your extra day off," said the teacher to her class. As the students reached for their backpacks, a young girl asked her friend, "What is Labor Day again?" "I'm not sure," said the young boy. "I just know we get an extra day off from school."

An extra day of fun suited Kayla just fine. She loved breaks. In fact, recess was Kayla's favorite part of the school day. After the school bus dropped Kayla off, she ran into the arms of her mom. "How was school, Kayla?" asked her mom. "It was great, Mom. I am excited about no school on Monday." "You just went back to school two weeks ago. Already in need of a break, huh?" asked Kayla's mom with a laugh.

Kayla slept in the next morning. Saturday was her favourite day of the week. It rained most of the day, so Kayla enjoyed playing video games inside. On Sunday, her friends came over and they all played basketball for several hours. Then it was Labor Day, you know, that extra day off that Kayla was so looking forward to. But Kayla was awakened early that morning by her dad. He told Kayla that in honor of Labor Day, the family would be cleaning both inside and outside the house. Kayla couldn't believe it. This was a holiday. A day where she was supposed to be enjoying freshly squeezed lemonade while playing in her tree-house.

As Kayla wiped her eyes, she began to wonder if this was just a bad dream.

"Kayla, your breakfast is ready. We have a lot of work to do today. Let's get a move on," said Kayla's mom. Okay, it was not a bad dream after all. For Kayla, it was a nightmare.

Kayla stumbled into the kitchen, still sleepy from being waken up so early. As she sat down at the kitchen table, Kayla calmly asked her parents: "Are you serious about working today? Isn't Labor Day a holiday?"

"Yes, Kayla. It is," replied her dad. "But your mom and I thought working hard today would make you appreciate why Labor Day is observed in the first place."

Kayla's mom went on to explain that Labor Day is a holiday to honor the hard work that people do throughout the year.

At first, Kayla felt disappointed about having several chores to do. First up, was helping to dry and put away the breakfast dishes. Then they moved on to some yard work where Kayla helped to pick up sticks. She pretended that the smallest ones were basketballs, as she shot them into a large trash-can.

Kayla felt proud at how much better the yard looked.

The next day Kayla's teacher asked her students what they did on their extra day off. Twin brothers Matt and Mark shared that they went boating with their family. A young girl, Cassie, said that her family had a picnic at the lake. When Kayla talked excitedly about her day, her classmates were surprised. Not because of all the work she had to do, but because of how much fun she had doing it.

6.1. From the first paragraph we learn that

- A. teachers were surprised that the school was cancelled on Monday.
- B. Kayla was glad that she was supposed to have one day off.
- C. children have just come from a two-week-long break.

6.2. How did Kayla spend Sunday?

- A. She spent some time in her tree house.
- B. She played some video games.
- C. She played a sport outdoors.
- D. She visited her friends.

6.3. On Labor Day Kayla

- A. slept longer than usual.
- B. refused to eat her breakfast.
- C. was asked to help in cleaning.
- D. played basketball for the whole day.

6.4. When Kayla was describing her Labor Day to her teacher, she was

- A. disappointed.
- B. enthusiastic.
- C. surprised.
- D. angry.

6.5. The text is about

- A. a relaxing day.
- B. a surprise visit.
- C. a valuable lesson.
- D. an unhappy family.

THE TRIPLE FILTER TEST

One day a friend met Socrates, a great Greek philosopher and said, "Do you know what I just heard about your friend?" "Hold on a minute," Socrates replied. "7.1. ____ That's why I call it the triple filter test. The first filter is Truth. Have you made absolutely sure that what you are about to tell me is true?" "Well, no," the man said, "actually I just heard about it and..." "All right," said Socrates. "So you don't really know if it's true or not. Now, let's try the second filter, the filter of Goodness. 7.2. ____" "Umm, no, on the contrary..." the man answered. "So," Socrates continued, "you want to tell me something bad about my friend, but you're not certain it's true. 7.3. ____ Is what you want to tell me about my friend going to be useful to me?" 7.4. ____ "Well," concluded Socrates, "if what you want to tell me is neither true, nor good, nor even useful, why tell it to me at all?"

- A. "No, not really." the man said.
- B. You've passed the test, so let's hear what you wanted to say.
- C. Is what you are about to tell me about my friend something good?
- D. You may still pass the test though, because there's one filter left – the filter of Usefulness.
- E. Before you talk to me about my friend, it might be a good idea to take a moment and filter what you're going to say.
