

Read and write True (T) or False (F) according to the sentences below:

1. Film is photography in motion.
2. Film is a still image.
3. The main thing that film and comics have in common is that they both tell a story.
4. Film is one of the most important means of non-verbal communication.
5. Comics combine still images and texts, whereas film combines moving images with sound.
6. Some elements that film and comics have in common are the types of shots, frames and viewpoints.
7. Comics and film share the same structure as they use shots and panels.
8. Comics offer less freedom to present and frame images because of the possibilities of drawing.

