IV. Answer in complete sentences

Last month, Minh participated in the school talent show. He was one of the youngest participants, but his performance was the most impressive. Although juggling was a big challenge for him, Minh decided to do it because he wanted to be special. He practiced about two weeks before the show, and he tried to juggle a bigger number of balls than anyone else. On the day of the show, Minh surprised everyone by juggling ten balls at once. His teacher and friends couldn't believe their eyes because he was usually a quiet and shy student. In the end, Minh didn't win the top prize. However, he was given a silver medal which still made his parents proud. Minh felt happy with his first achievement and decided to challenge himself for a gold medal next time.
