B. READING

Nicknames

It is very common to have a nickname. A nickname is different from your real name. It is a name that friends and family call you. Nicknames are often shorter versions of first names. For example, Liz and Beth are nicknames for Elizabeth. Many children have nicknames that end in "y" or "ie." For example, Andy is a nickname for Andrew, and Susie is a nickname for Susan. Here are some other common nicknames.

| Name      | Nickname(s)        |
|-----------|--------------------|
| David     | Dave               |
| Jonathon  | John, Johnny       |
| Michael   | Mike, Mickey       |
| Daniel    | Dan, Danny         |
| Angela    | Angie              |
| Nicole    | Nicky              |
| Jennifer  | Jen, Jenny         |
| Katherine | Kate, Kathy, Katie |

Some people use nicknames all their lives. Others use them for a short time. Some people have more than one nickname. For example, at work, Robert Jones is Rob. His friends call him Bob, and his sisters call him Bobby.

Some nicknames are for a person's appearance or interests. For example, Linda Anderson has red hair. Her friends call her Red. Paul Rivers likes basketball. His friends call him Hoop. Friends and family use these kinds of nicknames, but they aren't usually used at work.
