Grammar training
(A) few/ (a) little

Complete the stories using* few, a few, little, or a little.

PREPARING FOR A PARTY

Anna was excited to organize her best friend's birthday party, but she faced several challenges. She had _____ decorations and _____ time to set everything up. Fortunately, she had _____ help from her friends, who brought _____ snacks and drinks. Despite having _____ money left for extra supplies, Anna used her creativity to decorate the space. She even managed to find _____ balloons hidden in a drawer, which added a festive touch. By the end of the evening, everyone agreed it was an amazing party, even though _____ people had doubted it would come together so well. Anna was proud of herself for doing so much with _____ resources.

A MORNING AT THE CAFÉ

Ella loved spending her mornings at the local café before heading to work. Today, she arrived early, hoping to enjoy _____ quiet time with her coffee and book. There were only _____ people in the café, so it felt peaceful. She ordered _____ mini croissants and a cappuccino, which the barista prepared quickly.

As she sat by the window, she noticed she had _____ time left before her meeting. She read _____ pages of her novel and smiled at how relaxing the morning was. A friend she hadn't seen in a while came in, and they chatted for _____ minutes before Ella had to leave. She walked out feeling refreshed, knowing she'd made the most of the time she had.

MOVING TO A NEW APARTMENT

Jake had just moved into his new apartment. The space was small, and he could use very _____ furniture. With _____ money left after paying an expensive rent, he could only buy _____ essential items, like a bed, a small table, and some dishes.

Luckily, _____ friends offered to help him move in and brought _____ decorations to brighten up the space. Together, they hung _____ pictures on the walls, rearranged the furniture, and made the place feel more like home. Jake realized he had _____ free time that day, so they ordered pizza and talked about their favorite memories.

Even though he had _____ space and _____ resources, Jake felt grateful to have friends who made his new apartment feel welcoming. He looked around and smiled, knowing he was off to a good start.

English__on_the_go

LIVEWORKSHEETS