Brad

How are you travelling to school today?
Share your experiences here!

I live on Staten Island in New York, but I go to school in Manhattan. So, every day, I travel 8.4 km on the Staten Island Ferry, across the New York Harbor. It takes 25 minutes. I'm sitting on the ferry at the moment and I'm using the Internet on my tablet because there's Wi-Fi on the ferry.

Hana

I'm from Japan and many people take the subway (the underground) to school – even young children! I'm travelling with my six-year-old sister now. She likes going on the subway with me. She doesn't like carrying her bag with all her textbooks, so I often carry it for her! Our parents think it's safe to travel on the subway.

Julia

I'm going back to school today! I'm from the Nenet region in northern Russia, but for nine months of the year, I live at school. And, it's very exciting because a helicopter takes us to school and brings us home at the end of the year!
