READING

A. Read the following passage and choose the correct word or phrase that best fits each of the numbered blanks.

Dear Ms Clifton,
I am writing to you about the volunteer programme at the Pyramids of Giza in Egypt that begins next month. I really love (1) _____ travelling and historical sites so I am very interested in becoming a volunteer and would like some more information about the programme.
Firstly, is there any training for volunteers? I've never worked at a historical landmark before and so I feel a little (2) _____, because I don't really know what I need to do.
Secondly, could you tell me more about the accommodation and travel arrangements? Do volunteers stay with host families or do we stay in private accommodation such as a hotel or hostel? Could you also tell me how the volunteers get to the site from their accommodation? Do we need to find our own way there or is there a bus or other type of transportation we can use?
(3) _____,, I was wondering about any other (4) _____, during the programme such as money for food or transport. In addition, do you recommend that I bring some extra money in case there is time to do some other sightseeing or activities such as visiting local markets and souvenir shops.
I want to thank you now for kindly taking the time to reply so that I can learn more about this exciting opportunity. The volunteer programme sounds not only educational, (5) _____, a lot of fun too!
Kind regards,
Layla James

B. Read the passage and choose the correct answer to each of the following questions. The Temple of Preah VihearDo you enjoy visiting temples in the countryside with picturesque surroundings? Then a visit to the Temple of Preah Vihear in Cambodia could be the ideal trip for you.* The temple as it exists today dates back to the 11th century, but its history dates back even further. This incredible UNESCO World Heritage site is not only well-preserved due to its remote location, but it is also the perfect place to see some incredible architecture and artwork, so you can capture some amazing photographs there.
Over the years, the National Authority for Preah Vihear has worked hard to preserve the temple and the natural environment that surrounds it so that people can continue to enjoy it. One such example is a tree-planting programme they set up in July 2021 for the site's 13th year as a UNESCO World Heritage site. As part of this tree-planting programme to preserve the site, they involved villagers and school children from the local area.

Then, in November 2021, they started a project to restore the temple which could take between eight and ten years. As part of the project, they plan to repair the big northern staircase which has around 2,400 steps and leads up to the 500m high monument.
Unfortunately, over the years, bad weather such as wind and rain, as well as plants growing between the stones has caused damage to the staircase – which is why this project needs to take place. Luckily, the work won't stop anyone visiting the site. So if you want to see a piece of the past in the present, then it's about time you took a trip to the temple of Preah Vihear.
