Prambanan Temple

Prambanan Temple is one of the largest Hindu temples in Indonesia, located near Yogyakarta. Built in the 9th century, this temple is famous for its beautiful architecture and tall, pointed towers. The main temple complex has three large temples, each dedicated to Hindu gods: Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva. Among these, the Shiva temple is the tallest, standing at 47 meters high.

Visitors can explore the temple grounds and enjoy the intricate carvings that tell ancient stories from Hindu mythology. Prambanan Temple is especially beautiful during sunrise and sunset, when the sunlight creates a warm, golden glow on the stone structures. Many visitors also attend traditional dance performances in the evening, which tell the story of Ramayana, a famous Hindu epic.
