

SKILL PRACTICE 6 – LISTENING (PART 4) & READING (PART 7 - MULTIPLE PASSAGES)

I. LISTENING - PART 4: TALKS

Overview

In Part 4 of the TOEIC test, you will hear short talks and answer questions about them. You will hear a total of ten talks and will answer three comprehension questions about each one, for a total of 30 questions in this part of the test. Each talk is fairly short, lasting approximately 30 seconds. As in Part 3, in Part 4 you will see the questions and answer options written on the test page. The questions ask about the main ideas and details of the talks and may require you to make inferences about the information you hear.

The talks are about things you would hear in normal business or everyday situations, such as:

- Announcements
- Speeches
- Tours
- Advertisements
- Reports
- Voicemail messages
- Lectures
- Introductions

The talks deal with topics such as:

- Travel information
- Tourism
- Weather
- News
- Business advice
- Store information
- Appointments and schedules
- Meeting agendas
- Office procedures

Remember!

1. Listening for Main Ideas: listening to short talks for overall comprehension; identifying the speaker, the topic, the audience, the location, and the purpose of a short talk
2. Listening for Details: listening to short talks for specific information; identifying numbers, dates and times, reasons and requests, people and places, problems and suggestions, plans and sequences
3. Making Inferences: listening to short talks for information that is not directly stated

A. Office Announcements

Read the following talk and focus on the main points. Use the What to listen for section as a guide.

Good morning, everyone. I've called this meeting to discuss the results of the survey we gave out to our customers about our cashiers. After looking over the data, it seems, while some customers like the increased rapport, many customers are dissatisfied with the speed of the checkout the most. I know we focused on holding personal conversations with our customers at the workshop last month, but it is really slowing us down. I think we should hold speed tests periodically to ensure the checkouts are going quickly, but accurately. Sandy, please set up that speed test for the end of next week.

What to listen for

- What was given out?
- What happened last month?
- What will Sandy do?

B. Speeches/Lectures

Read the following talk and focus on the main points. Use the What to listen for section as a guide.

Welcome to the new employee orientation for the New Sun Wellness and Fitness Center. There are a few things I'd like to say before we formally begin. We will be taking a tour of the facilities to get everyone familiar with where everything is. But right now the pool and aquatics area is undergoing renovations, so we will have to skip that area. It should be completed by next month. Also, I know everyone is already certified in first aid, but we take it very seriously. Therefore, everyone will undergo a first-aid safety course at the end of this week. This is mandatory for all. If anyone has any questions during the orientation, please let me know.

What to listen for

- Where can't the listeners go?
- What is mentioned about the listeners?

II. READING - PART 7: MULTIPLE PASSAGES

Overview

Part 7 begins with 7-10 single passages, each one followed by 2-5 comprehension questions, for a total of 29 questions. The single passages are followed by a series of multiple passages. Multiple passages are sets of two to three related reading passages followed by five comprehension questions for each set, for a total of 25 questions. Some of the questions require looking at the information in 2-3 passages and making the appropriate connections in order to answer correctly. The question types are the same as for the single passages.

Here are some examples of multiple passage types:

- A train schedule and an e-mail about making travel arrangements
- A help-wanted ad and a letter asking for employment
- A page of course descriptions and a class registration form
- An advertisement and 2 e-mails
- An article, schedule, and letter

Remember!

- Skim the passage to get a general idea of the content. Notice any key words and ideas. Remember, skimming a passage means reading it quickly.

Skimming

When reading for main ideas, you need to read the passage simply to get a general overview of what it is about. This is called skimming. For example, if you look through a magazine to see what's inside, or look at a menu, this is skimming. Do not read every word - just focus on the key words that contain important information. Your goal is to get an overall idea of what the text is about. Get used to skimming texts in this way, and you will improve your TOEIC score.

- Read the first question and look at the four answer choices. The first question often asks about the main ideas. Answer the question if you can. If you are not sure, make certain what information you need to look for before you look in the text.
- Look through the passage to find the area you need. Then slow down and scan to find the answer. Remember, scanning a passage means reading it carefully in order to find specific information.

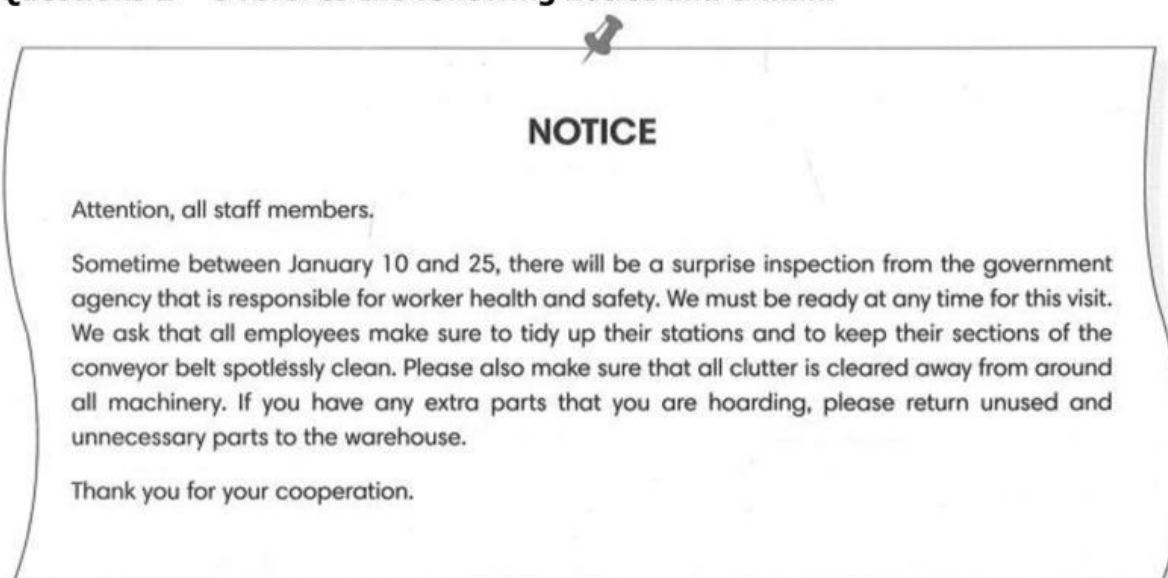

Scanning

When reading for details, you need to read the passage quickly to find the specific information you need. This is called scanning. For example, if you look through a dictionary to find a word, or check what time your favorite program is on TV, this is scanning. Do not read every word - just focus on the information that you are looking for. Your goal is to find specific details. Get used to scanning texts in this way, and you will improve your TOEIC score.

- Refer again to the answer choices. Eliminate any answer choices you are sure are incorrect. Then mark your answer. If necessary, make a guess.

A. Office Memos and Notices

Questions 1 – 5 refer to the following notice and e-mail.

NOTICE

Attention, all staff members.

Sometime between January 10 and 25, there will be a surprise inspection from the government agency that is responsible for worker health and safety. We must be ready at any time for this visit. We ask that all employees make sure to tidy up their stations and to keep their sections of the conveyor belt spotlessly clean. Please also make sure that all clutter is cleared away from around all machinery. If you have any extra parts that you are hoarding, please return unused and unnecessary parts to the warehouse.

Thank you for your cooperation.

To:	Chris Horton, Production Manager <horton_c@sparks.com>
From:	Greg Hamilton, Factory Floor Manager <hamilton_g@sparks.com>
Subject:	Upcoming inspection and productivity
Date:	January 15

Dear Chris,

Please be advised that, due to the upcoming surprise inspection, the floor staff has been spending extra time cleaning. Because more time is being spent on cleanup, productivity has dropped by 5%, and I predict that this will continue until after the inspection, which could still be ten days away. I believe that January production quotas should be lowered in order to maintain the exceptional standard of safety that the staff has achieved so far. Once the inspection is over, we can then return productivity back to the standards we are used to.

Regards,

Greg Hamilton

1. What is the notice mainly about?

- (A) A government meeting
- (B) A visit by a government official
- (C) A new cleaning crew
- (D) A production manager visit

2. What are workers asked to do?

- (A) Increase their productivity
- (B) Help organize the warehouse
- (C) Clean up the air in the factory
- (D) Keep their work areas clean and neat

3. What is implied about the inspection?

- (A) It had not occurred by January 15.
- (B) It was requested by Greg Hamilton.
- (C) It will be rescheduled for later in the year.
- (D) It was completed and went badly.

4. What problem is the upcoming event causing?

- (A) Employees are working longer hours.
- (B) Workers are producing less.
- (C) Workstations are becoming messy.
- (D) Staff members are being injured.

5. What solution is offered?

- (A) Improving standards of safety
- (B) Increasing the conveyor belt speed
- (C) Temporarily reducing quotas
- (D) Requesting to postpone the inspection

Questions 6 – 10 refer to the following memo, partial agenda, and e-mail.

MEMO

Date: March 16
RE: Travel expenses

A great deal of employee travel is scheduled for the coming weeks. Therefore, the accounting department would like to clarify company policy regarding reimbursement for hotel stays and per diem.

Hotels: Our support staff are instructed to book and pre-pay hotel rooms for employees within a standard price limit, which depends on the city and the season of travel. For example, the limit for this month's MBA convention in Springfield is $200 per night. If you wish to reserve a more expensive hotel, you must pay the difference yourself.

Per diem: Per diem is meant to cover food and other small expenses while traveling. It is a fixed amount per day and varies according to the city. For one-day trips with no overnight stay, employees receive 75% of the standard per diem. For example, here are the per diem amounts for a trip to Springfield:

Standard per diem: $80 per day
One-day trip (no overnight stay): $60

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to ask.

Alana Cahill
Accounting Manager

Springfield MBA Convention, March 26–27
Cooper Expo Center, Springfield
