WRITING AN ESSAY

You've reached to the end of the fan fiction. Congrats for an amazing reading habit and commitment. Now, express your thoughts in your own essay. Here there are some useful notes:

In your English class, you have reached the ending of a fan fiction. Your English teacher has asked you to write an essay about your feelings and thoughts on the story. "No Body, No Crime" portrays characters who make extreme decisions based on grief, betrayal, and justice. Do you think Taylor and Danielle's actions are justified?

Notes:

- Introduction: Briefly introduce the fan fiction's premise and explain the essay topic.
- Main Idea 1 - Characters motivations and actions.
- Main Idea 2 - Carson and Taylor differences and consequences on their actions.
- Conclusion: Share your opinion. Do you believe their actions were justified?

Instructions:

- Write a brief introduction where you explain the plot.
- Discuss two main points (use the notes given).
- Support your argument with examples from the story.
- Use linking words to connect your ideas.
- End with a conclusion that summarizes your opinion.

Take these questions into consideration if you feel lost or unispired when writing:

1. Why do you think Taylor and Danielle chose to take justice into their own hands?
2. How does the story challenge traditional ideas of justice and morality?
3. Would you have made the same decisions as Taylor and Danielle? Why or why not?
