In English, the words 'house' and 'home' do not have the same meaning. In towns and cities, a modern house is a building with four walls and a roof above it, often on a street with many other houses. (21)_____ People can dine in the kitchen, sleep in the bedrooms, take a shower in the bathroom, and relax in the living room.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

(22)_____ For example, my favourite room is my bedroom. It has all my things in it so it's not very spacious, but I really love it. My mum loves reading in the charming living room. Tom, the cat, lies under her feet by the hot fireplace. And my dad can cook pretty well so he's usually in the kitchen.

(23)_____ Of course, I miss all my music, my games, and my books, but I also miss family routines. Our house is rather noisy in the mornings before work or school. Then, when I get back in the evening, Tom jumps on me with his dirty cat feet, and there is the fantastic smell of the food in the kitchen.

So, home is the people and animals who live in a house, and the objects in the rooms that are special to us. It's the activities we do, our feelings, and the familiar surroundings. Home is also the community we are part of. Every summer, there's a big party in our street. When new people move in, they have a housewarming party with all the neighbours. (24)_____
