

You are going to listen to an interview with Paul Bernal, an expert on internet privacy rights. First you will have 45 seconds to study the task below. Then you will hear the recording twice. While listening, choose the correct answer (A, B, C or D) for each question (1-7). Put a cross (☒) in the correct box on the answer sheet. The first one (0) has been done for you.

After the second listening, you will have 45 seconds to check your answers.

Time to quit Facebook?

0 As a result of the shocking events related to Facebook,

- A people are calling for international cooperation.
- B many users have changed to other networks.
- C politicians are discussing measures against data abuse.
- D victims are claiming compensation.

1 Regarding official steps to protect data, Paul Bernal says that

- A people's hopes will probably remain unfulfilled.
- B users would have to protest publicly.
- C there is a lack of solidarity needed to succeed.
- D special interest groups slow down the process.

2 Bernal says that politicians

- A see the recent scandal as a chance to start anew.
- B are shocked about how often data is misused.
- C are trying hard to prevent similar incidents.
- D would also like to take advantage of data.

3 Bernal says that one major risk of officially protecting data is that

- A common guidelines would have to be set.
- B this restricts people's right to say what they think.
- C this would cause more hacking.
- D multinationals would find a way around it.

4 According to Bernal, social networks collect information about people by

- A making them participate in online games.
- B analysing their public postings.
- C questioning them in a playful way.
- D involving them in discussions.

5 The interviewer says that people give away facts about themselves

- A because they think they are supporting research.
- B but ignore the long-term consequences.
- C without realising what they are doing.
- D and usually regret it shortly afterwards.

6 Facebook distinguishes itself from other social networks because

- A it offers a larger range of tools.
- B its privacy policy is more complex.
- C its user community has grown rapidly.
- D it is the main medium for important influencers.

7 If people decided to change to other social media, they

- A could count on better data protection.
- B would be likely to face similar challenges.
- C might miss quite a few services.
- D would be happy with their decision.