Theatre Blog: My School Play by Suzie The Jungle Book

One week ago, we acted in a play at my school. It's called The Jungle Book. The script for the play is from a famous book by a writer called Rudyard Kipling.

The play is about Mowgli, a boy who lives with his animal friends Baloo the bear, Bagheera the panther and Kaa the snake. Mowgli has to escape from a tiger called Shere Khan. His friends think he should live in the village with other people, not in the forest with the animals. Mowgli loves his animal friends and doesn't want to live in the village.

We had to wear lots of make-up for the play. I was Bagheera. The costumes were fantastic. There was a big stage with lots of lights and a huge red curtain. The audience loved it and said the songs were amazing. It was exciting, too, when Mowgli had to run from Shere Khan. I loved acting in the play, and I think I'd like to be an actor!
