Integrated Skills in English II

Time allowed: 2 hours

This exam paper has four tasks. Complete all tasks.

Task 1 – Long reading

Read the following text about Hackney City Farm and answer the 15 questions on page 3.

Paragraph 1

The site of Hackney City Farm in East London has had many uses, from button making to furniture manufacture. But, early in the 1800s, the site was used as market gardens, and the fruit and vegetables that were produced were sold in the city. From 1940 onwards, the site was used as a base for a lorry transport company, but in 1982 local people started to keep some animals in the area, and in 1984 Hackney City Farm was born. Inspired by another city farm, not far away, its aim was to give adults and children the chance to experience farming in an urban area.

Paragraph 2

When the city farm took over the site, it was dirty and run-down. The old buildings were converted into shelters for animals and now it is inhabited by a variety of animals and has a productive vegetable garden. Apart from an employed farm worker, local volunteers help look after the farm. There are regular visits from schoolchildren. The aim is to inform them about food and nature, with extra workshops on creating objects from recycled materials, and on growing plants. Visits are free for schoolchildren, and everyone else, in fact.

Paragraph 3

The farm also runs projects. One of these was what is known as an 'intergenerational project', in which children and older people worked together. The theme of the project was working life in the past and covered the businesses that have disappeared, like woodworking and clothing manufacture. The older people shared their work experiences and the children used these ideas to do role plays of the jobs people used to do, and write a poem about them. The older people were inspired by the children's energy, and the children appreciated the older people's knowledge.

Paragraph 4

If you visit the farm, apart from seeing the animals and the gardens, you might take part in a pottery workshop or visit the award-winning café. To remember your visit, you can buy farm produce, including eggs and honey. The farm shop, which is at the entrance to the farm, has recently been re-designed by a firm of architects who were sympathetic to the farm's aims. They decided not to build a structure there, but keep the space open – in fact they knocked down a small section of wall, so that visitors can immediately see the vegetable garden.

Paragraph 5

The farm may not be a key tourist attraction, as there isn't a huge amount for anyone over five to see there. However, if you go, you will appreciate what the farm has achieved. They have raised awareness of the advantages of eating local products and created a peaceful space in the middle of a city area. Peaceful, that is, apart from the animal noises! People moving into the area have to sign a document to say that they will not complain about the noise – and they have to keep this promise! If you're finding the stress of the city too much, you should try an afternoon at Hackney City Farm as an enjoyable alternative.
