Hi, I'm Carlos.

I visited Colombia last month, and this is a picture of the Lost City, also known as Ciudad Perdida. It is an ancient archaeological site located in the Sierra Nevada de Santa Marta mountains. The Lost City was built by the Tayrona people around 800 AD, making it older than Machu Picchu. It consists of a series of 169 terraces carved into the mountainside and a network of tiled roads and small circular plazas. The site was rediscovered in 1972 by a group of looters looking for treasure. Now it's one of the most important archaeological sites in Colombia and is visited by many tourists each year.
