

What is the correct use of each expression?

"Signposting phrases" act like "road signs," helping to organize thoughts, clarify ideas, and show the direction of the discussion.

Useful language

Signposting phrases
Put the phrases in the correct category. Add more phrases to each category.

A case in point is ...	Moving on ...
First and foremost ...	Now, turning to ...
For instance ...	To start off with ...
In summary, ...	To recap, ...

Introducing your first main point	Transitioning to another main point	Introducing an example	Summarising

Listen to two people debate the question.
Who answers "Yes" and "No"?

Rosa says _____

Daniel says _____

1. Online information shows someone's true personality. _____
2. If you can find information online, a profile is not private. _____
3. Social networking sites do not show you what a person is like. _____
4. Recruiting and training is very expensive for companies. _____
5. Employers cannot own their employees. _____
6. An employee's behavior is different at work and with friends. _____