Balinese Cooking School

Although Bali isn't one of the five largest islands of Indonesia, it is one of the most popular with visitors from all over the world. Most of you already know about our fabulous beaches or our most active volcanoes, but few are aware of the rich flavors of our exciting cuisine.

Come to the Balinese Cooking School to learn more about it and explore some of the other unique resources of our wonderful island!

Where are we?

We are located about 5 km outside Ubud, which is one of the main cities in Bali. The school is in an area extremely popular among walkers, as it is surrounded by peaceful rice fields and beautiful, lush green trees. Since there is no public transportation to our school, we offer a bus service that can pick up students at the major hotels. Just provide us with the name of your hotel when you make the reservation.

What is the program?

- After the hotel pick-up at 7 a.m., we will go directly to one of the local markets. The locals in Bali shop early in the morning, and this is the best time to select good-quality, fresh ingredients and to taste and smell an astonishing variety of fruits and vegetables. The market is a fascinating experience and we guarantee it will be one of your most delicious memories!
- We will take you from the market to the school and, after a typical local breakfast of Balinese cakes, fried bananas, and other fresh fruit, you will be ready to begin the cooking classes.
- From 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., you will learn to cook a complete menu of about ten different dishes using noodles, rice, chicken, fish and, of course, lots of fresh vegetables. Working together in small groups of five people, you will receive individualized attention and useful tips.
- After that comes one of the best parts of our program: sitting together to enjoy the delicious food you prepared while listening to traditional Balinese music!

1 What does the text say about Balinese cooking?
- A It is completely unknown.
- B Not many foreigners know about it.
- C You can eat Balinese food on the main islands of Indonesia.

2 How do people get to the cooking school?
- A Walking from Ubud.
- B By public transportation.
- C On transportation run by the culinary school.

3 According to the text, when do students get to the market?
- A Before they start cooking.
- B Before seven o'clock in the morning.
- C After they have had breakfast at the school.

4 What is not included in the program?
- A Sharing two meals at the school.
- B Lessons on Balinese cooking tools.
- C Experiencing other cultural traditions of Bali.

5 How many dishes will the students prepare?
- A An average of eleven dishes.
- B More than a dozen.
- C Between nine and eleven dishes.
