

Find the Mistakes

James is a very helpfull person. He works as a teach at a school for young children. The children think he is a very love person because he always listens to them and helps them with their problems. Every day, he tries to make the classroom more fun and exciting, so he often soft the lights to make the room feel cozy. He also reads many books to the children, and sometimes they are hard to understand because they are unread due to the small text. After work, James likes to relax by reading an adventure book or sometimes a hopeful story that makes him smile. He dreams of becoming a better teach and wants to help every student feel confident with their work.
