

How a character affects the story

You should ask yourself the next question to understand how a character affect the events of the story:

- What did Geronimo do to cause coming into the Kingdom of Fantasy?

The decisions that I made to go into the kingdom of Fantasy were:

Let's make a match.

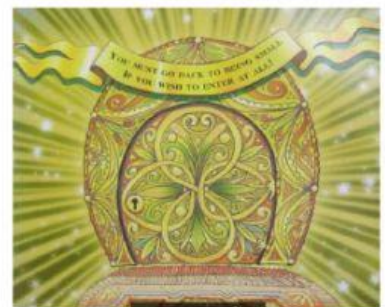

I opened the Golden door with the golden key.

I found a musical box in my attic and opened it.

I climbed the Golden stairs to go up

Now write a paragraph about how the decisions Geronimo made affected the story...

You can start like this:

Because Geronimo went to the attic to look for some candles and he found a musical box and decided to open itthis happened: He came into the Kingdom of Fantasy,

Criterium	Superior	High	Basic	Low
Understands why and how a character affects a story.	Identifies how the characters' appearance, behavior, emotions, and background changed the stories he/she reads.	Tells why a character acts in a certain way in a story by identifying his traits.	Understands the difference between main and secondary characters.	Identifies the characters in the stories read in class.