Maria Gómez

My month in London

Hello! I'm María Gómez. I'm 21 years old, and I'm from Cádiz in Spain. I'm a student, and I love soccer! Right now, I'm in the U.K. I'm at a language school to learn English, but I'm also here for an international soccer tournament for students! This is my blog about my month in London.

Week 1

This is my host family. They're very nice. Helen's English and Alex is Scottish, and their children are named Jenny and Jacob. Jenny's fourteen and Jacob's twelve. Sometimes I play soccer in the park with Jenny and Jacob, and sometimes we all go for a walk in the center of London. It's a really interesting city. My favorite places are Big Ben, Buckingham Palace, and Tower Bridge.

Week 2

This is my language school. There are lots of students from different countries, and we all speak English together. My classmates are really friendly. I always sit with Hitoshi. He's Japanese. Our English lessons are fun! Our teacher's name is Kerry, and she's from Australia.

Week 3

I'm at the soccer tournament now. The teams are from Spain, Brazil, Portugal, Poland, Russia, England, Scotland, and Japan. We train every morning. I think we're a good team because we're very fast. The games are in the evening. They're really exciting!

Week 4

We're the champions! 😊 I'm happy, but I'm also sad because it's the end of my month here. Goodbye, London! Until next time!

Possessive adjectives

We use possessive adjectives before nouns to say that something belongs to someone.

It's my wallet.

This is your book.

This is her phone.

Where is his bag?

Is this our umbrella?

This is their car.

1.12	Subject pronoun	Possessive adjective

	you	your	Are you ready? Your taxi's here.
	he	his	He 's a great teacher. His students are young.

	we	our	We 're from the U.S., but our son is British.
	they	their	They 're not here. Their train is late.

We use the same possessive adjective for singular and plural nouns.

's for possession

We add 's to a singular name or noun to say that something belongs to someone.

Where are Lisa's bags?

This is the teacher's desk.

We don't usually use 's to say that something belongs to a thing. We use of.

The front of the bus.

The end of the vacation.

With regular plural nouns that end in -s, we use an apostrophe (') after the -s to talk about possession.

These are the students' books.

My friends' names are Lucy and Samir.

With irregular plural nouns, we use 's to talk about possession.
