Remember two poems we've discussed ("Daffodils" by William Wordsworth and "The Tyger" by William Blake) and answer the questions. If you need to read the poems again, you can find them in the presentations or Google them.

What are the primary themes in "Daffodils" by Wordsworth and "The Tyger" by Blake? How do these themes reflect the poets' views on nature and creation?

Identify and compare the symbols in each poem. What do the daffodils symbolize for Wordsworth, and how does this differ from the symbolism of the tiger in Blake's work?

Considering the Romantic era, how do both poets reflect the characteristics of Romanticism in their works? Discuss elements such as emotion, individualism, and a connection to nature.
