I'm an officer worker and I work for big computer company in Quito with Paulina. Paulina and I had planned to go on holiday to Cartagena so last year we took a plane to go there. The trip was about two hours. We didn't travel by bus because it takes more than 24 hours so it is really tiring. When we got to Cartagena, we went to our hotel in a taxi where we left our bags. Then, we went sightseeing to town, the architecture of the historical center is wonderful and unique and we took some pictures.

Also, we ate meat empanadas which is a traditional snack from Cartagena. We bought some souvenirs like T-shirts. In our last day in Cartagena, Pauli and I wanted to go to the beach – Playa Blanca. The receptionist at the hotel gave us a bus schedule. We went to the bus stop, and there was another tourist – Vinicio, a guy from Guayaquil. He wanted to go to Playa Blanca, too. We waited and we waited, but the bus didn't arrive. So, Vinicio checked an app and found out that you can catch a speedboat and get there in 30 minutes. We left the bus stop with Vinicio and got on a speedboat. It was really an amazing trip and so fast – much better than the bus! We all had so much fun together that day. And, by the way, Vinicio is now my husband. We spent there three days, then we come back to our country.
