

1 Read the text and answer the questions

There are many things we can do to take care of the environment. For instance, if people reduce their carbon footprint, they will contribute to slowing down global warming. If we plant more trees, we can improve air quality and help the planet heal. On the other hand, if industries continue to pollute at the current rate, we will face even worse weather conditions and environmental disasters. If we had started taking serious action years ago, the situation would not be as bad as it is now.

The good news is that it's not too late. If governments enforce stricter environmental laws, they might help reduce the destruction of natural habitats. If we make smarter choices, we could save energy and protect resources. Our actions today will determine the future of our planet, and we must make the right decisions before it's too late.
