The Concert in the Square

My name's Michael, and I live in a small town with my parents. I ride my bike to school every day, and there are lots of fields in my town. My dad and mom are farmers.

Every Thursday after lunch I have music class. Our teacher, Miss Metal, is a lot of fun. She's really good at showing us how to play musical instruments. I've tried the drums, guitar, violin and piano. My favorite is the guitar.

Last Thursday Miss Metal told us there will be a concert at our town centre at night. My friends and I were excited. At home my family and I ate dinner and then I rode my bike quickly to the square. There was a band playing loud music, with some people dancing in front of them. Yellow, blue and green lights were everywhere, and there was a man selling lemonade.

My friends and I danced for three hours! It was wonderful. I was tired so I sat down. When I looked at the person playing the guitar I was suprised. It was Miss Metal!
