

@LizaPrav

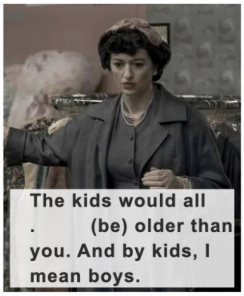

EZ Screen Fans 1

The Queens Gambit 1.3

goals forming of:
Present and Past Simple, Present Perfect Simple
Modals

Fill in the gaps with the right form of the verb in brackets
V, V-s, V2 or V3

- You've (grow up), Harmon. You've even (get) good-looking.
- I don't even know your first name.
- Everyone (call) me Townes. Maybe that's why I call you Harmon instead of Elizabeth.
- It's Beth.

- What about Russia?
- The Soviets are murder. They (eat) Americans for breakfast there.
- I don't think there's (be) an American with a prayer against them in 20 years. It's like ballet.
- They (pay) people to play chess.

I've (allow) 12 dollars for our celebration supper tonight, and two dollars for a small breakfast in the morning. That (make) our total expenses, so far, $172.30.

The doctor (want) to keep her in bed for a few more days.One of the worst colds I've ever . (see) in a child.

That's it, honey, hold it up so we can see it. So, can you tell the readers of Life how it (feel)?

- I mean, when I was a girl, I wasn't (allow) to be competitive. I (play) with dolls.
- Chess isn't always competitive.
- No, but you play to win.

- All those places you've (be), which (be) your favorite?
- I (like) Houston.

- Benny Watts (play) in Europe all the time now that he (have) his international title.

It shouldn't (be) that important.

LIVEWORKSHEETS