Bella Goes to the Vet

Bella jumped into mom's blue car. She stuck her head out of the window and slobbered all over the glass. She enjoyed the feeling of the wind in her fur as mom drove down the streets. When the car finally stopped Bella jumped out of the car and sniffed every possible thing in sight. Bella was so happy until she smelled something familiar. She stopped in her tracks and refused to walk further. This wasn't the dog park! No, she had been tricked! This smell could only be one thing, the Vet! She was not going to move unless she got a lot of treats.

Bella is a black and white dog who loves to play with her toys. Her favorite toy is a purple rhino. She walks around holding the toy in her mouth. One day Bella went outside with her favorite toy. She dropped the toy onto the grass while she dug a hole in the garden. Suddenly she heard her someone say, "Bella! Time to eat!." Bella ran inside and gobbled up all of her food. After dinner she went on a nice long walk. When it was time for bed Bella started howling. Her owner opened up the back door and Bella ran out. When she came back into the house her tail was wagging and she had her purple stuffed rhino in her mouth.
