3 REVIEW

VOCABULARY

1 Circle the correct words.

People [1]greet / gesture each other in many ways when they meet. All around the world, it's very common to [2]whisper / wave when you want to attract someone's attention, and then simply [3]smile / shout to show that you are happy. If we don't do this, then the other person might [4]interpret / translate your serious face as meaning that you don't want to meet them. Perhaps the most common way to say hello in Europe and North America is to [5]wave / shake hands. In other places, like Japan, people bow (move their head and body forwards). In the Philippines, some people perform a [6]gesture / shake called mano (this Spanish word [7]posts / translates as 'hand' into English), putting the other person's hand on their head. In some cultures, people put their noses together when they meet. In Costa Rica, however, people [8]shout / whisper 'Ooooooooopppe!' in a very loud voice when they meet!

2 Complete the sentences with the correct form of say or tell.

1 Can I _____ you a secret?
2 I'd like to know how to _____ 'I love you' in Italian.
3 When you don't want to do something, you can always _____ no.
4 I know I said I was 16, but I wasn't _____ the truth.
5 Paula didn't _____ hello to me at the party.
6 George _____ me the story of how his parents met. It was really funny.
7 I'm not very good at _____ lies – my face always goes red!
8 Mike _____ a really terrible joke and no one laughed.

LANGUAGE IN ACTION

3 Tick (✓) the correct sentences and correct five incorrect sentences

1 I can swim when I was only two years old. ☐
2 I think I can to be able to get a good job in the future. ☐
3 I couldn't come to the party last night because I was ill. ☐
4 Will you be able to phone me when you get home? ☐
5 I can't speak English until I went to school. ☐
6 Can you watch TV late at night at the weekend? ☐
7 The school will be able let me know about my exam results next week. ☐
8 Now I could speak Italian well, but in the past I couldn't. ☐

LIVEWORKSHEETS