A Story From My Granny's Past

Let me tell you a wild story that my granny told me about one of her adventures when she was young. It was the summer of 1965, and my granny, just a teenager herself, was walking with her friends in the little town where they grew up. They had a big plan to sneak into the local carnival, which, as everyone knew, was closed to children their age, but the temptation of cotton candy and Ferris wheel rides was too great to resist. They dressed in their best outfits, giggling about how brave they were and feeling like rebels against all the 'boring adult rules.'

So, there they were, with hearts racing and adrenaline pumping as they tiptoed past the gate. Everything was going perfectly until they were spotted by a grumpy security guard who looked like he had just stepped out of a classic movie. Instead of running away, though, my brave granny stood her ground. She couldn't let anyone ruin their fun, so she started chatting with the guard, trying to charm him with her silly jokes and infectious laughter. To everyone's surprise, it actually worked! The guard ended up laughing and even gave them a warning instead of kicking them out. It was luck!

Just when they thought they were safe, they were spotted by the carnival owner. He was a tall man with a thick mustache, and let's just say he wasn't in the mood to joke. While they were puzzling over what to do next, my grandmother had an idea that was as crazy as it was smart. She suggested they perform their own little show right here in front of the Ferris wheel. Together with her friends, they danced and sang, gathering a small crowd that cheered them on. The owner, trying to save his reputation, let them finish, and by the end of their spontaneous performance, even he forced a smile.

After that unforgettable day, my granny and her friends felt like they had conquered the world. Years later, she still laughs every time she remembers that adventure, saying it taught her that pranks, laughter and friendship always leave the best memories. And honestly, I think this story is a reminder to be spontaneous and create our own fun, no matter the circumstances!

A. Granny and her friends planned to sneak into ...

- 1) a school dance.
- 2) a movie theatre.
- 3) a local carnival.
- 4) a concert.

B. Granny tried to charm the security guard ...

- 1) by offering him candy.
- 2) by telling jokes and laughing.
- 3) by pretending to be lost.
- 4) by showing him her ticket.

C. After talking to Granny the security guard ...

- 1) called the police.
- 2) kicked them out.
- 3) ignored them.
- 4) laughed and gave them a warning.

D. When they were spotted by the carnival owner, Granny had an idea ...

- 1) to run away.
- 2) to hide behind the Ferris wheel.
- 3) to make a show in front of the Ferris wheel.
- 4) to ask for forgiveness.

E. From her adventure that she shared years later Granny learnt that ...

- 1) pranks and friendship can be remembered for years.
- 2) children shouldn't break adults' rules.
- 3) children should be taught to be spontaneous.
- 4) it wasn't fun to make pranks.
