Auto Andrews Pitchfork indicator for MT4 Download - Free - [TFlab]

The Auto Andrews Pitchfork indicator is one of the MT4 Bands and Channels indicators, designed to identify the market's dynamic support and resistance points.

The (AAP) indicator works alongside theMACD indicator by identifying the chart's three most recent pivot points, drawing three parallel lines in red resembling a pitchfork.

The median line of this pitchfork can be identified as a potentialReversal point or, if broken, can signal the continuation of the recent trend.

Auto Andrews Indicator Overview

The Andrews Pitchfork Indicator uses three pivots on the chart and calculates the price difference between them to draw two related pitchforks. Each pitchfork consists of three parallel lines, which can be used either as Reversal points or to indicate trend continuation in case of a breakout.

Uptrend Signals of the Indicator

The following image shows the AUDNZD currency pair in a 4-hour time frame. The indicator uses the most recent three pivots (low—high—low) to draw the dashed Andrews Pitchfork. After the median band breaks out, a Buy Position signal is generated.
