Shall we visit the Soup Shop?

Hi, everyone! Today I want to talk about a great restaurant in my town. It's called the Soup Shop. The only thing you can eat there is soup! All kinds of soup. You can order sausage soup and cheese soup, mango soup and tea soup. You can also order chocolate and biscuit soup, and almost every other kind of soup. But you can't order anything else at the Soup Shop. Customers can't say, 'Excuse me, is there any pizza?' or 'Are there any chicken sandwiches?' 'No,' the waiters and waitresses say, 'there isn't any pizza. There aren't any chicken sandwiches at the Soup Shop. But there is some soup at the Soup Shop. Lots of soup! Would you like to see the menu?'

My parents and I love the Soup Shop. We go there for a meal every Friday evening. How about egg and banana soup? Do you think that's a good idea? You're right! It's yummy! It's my favourite thing to eat at the Soup Shop. You should try it! See you in the next post!

Help with Writing

When you write a blog post, you can talk directly to your readers. At the beginning of his post, Luka writes, 'Hi, everyone!' He also asks his readers questions like 'How about egg and banana soup?' Writers of blog posts also use lots of exclamation marks (!) to help their readers understand how strongly they feel about what they are writing.

2 Imagine you write a blog about food. Write a post about a restaurant or café that you like in your town. Include the following information:

- The name of your blog.
- The name of the restaurant/café.
- The food you can order there.
- Your favourite thing to eat there.
- When or how often you go there.
