5 Used to

Language focus

Use used to to talk about things you did routinely in the past or the way things were in the past, e.g.

My grandmother used to be a teacher. She used to teach Spanish.

When we use used to, we are saying that things are different now:

My sister used to play the piano. (She doesn't play it now.)

My brother used to draw cartoons. (He doesn't draw them now.)

The other day, I was thinking about how things change. For example, I used to (1) have blonde hair when I was younger. It's dark now. My friends and I used to (2) _____ football every Saturday morning, but these days we never do that. I used to (3) _____ with my parents and brother in a small flat in the centre of our city, but now we live in a big house with a garden in a village outside the city. Dad used to (4) _____ for a newspaper, but now he works for a website. Mum used to (5) _____ a children's television programme called Milkshake, but now she writes stories. Grandad used to (6) _____ a police officer, but now he is retired. Nothing stays the same. It can be sad sometimes, but it keeps things interesting!
