Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions from 31 to 36.

In this day and age, it's inevitable that your kid will need a cell phone at some point. Buying a phone for your kid is a big decision. Not only is it a financial investment, but you also need to consider Internet safety and how kids can use electronics in a healthy way. "Today's parents are both blessed and cursed by technology options made available to their children," says Titania Jordan, the chief parenting officer of parental-control app Bark. "While the ability to locate and communicate with your children in real-time is incredible, the ability of others to do so can be frightening and dangerous."

When considering which cell phone to buy for your child, consider their age, the intended users of the phone, and the parental control options. If your teen just started driving, a smartphone with a built in GPS and full calling abilities in case of emergency may be a good bet. For a younger kid, a simple phone with no internet access that lets them text their parents may be all they need. You may even decide they don't need a phone quite yet but can instead use a smart watch to text you and make short phone calls with approved contacts. To find the best cell phones for kids, we surveyed nearly 500 parents to learn about the phones they have bought for their own kids, as well as how their families navigate technology use. We also spoke to the Internet safety experts that specialize in kids' safe use of phones. Additionally, we reviewed guidance from the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) regarding when to give your child a cell phone.

Question 31: What is the main idea of the passage?

1. The pros and cons of children using cell phones
2. How to choose the best cell phone for your child
3. The importance of Internet safety for kids
4. The role of parental-control apps in protecting children

Question 32: What should parents consider when buying a smartphone for their kids?

1. Its material                      B. the child's age                      C. its contact list                      D. its GPS

Question 33: What does Titania Jordan suggest?

1. Technology is just another burden for parents
2. Parents should spend more time communicating to their children

3. Parents should beware of strangers using technology to locate their children
4. Children should only be allowed to use phone to text their parents

Question 34: These methods have been used to figure out the right cell phone for kids EXCEPT

1. Internet safety experts
2. Survey of parents' view
3. guidance from AAP
4. cell phone companies
