

Match the terms to the possible definitions.

DISTRIBUTION

SUPPLY CHAIN

PRODUCTION

CONSUMPTION

It is the process of transforming agricultural inputs into outputs.

It refers to the processes and systems used to move agricultural products to the end consumer.

It is the act of using or eating agricultural products.

It is a value chain or network of actors, activities, and technologies interconnected to produce, process, distribute, and commercialize agricultural products.