

Paraphrase the sentences by using to seem, to appear with 4 types of the infinitive (to do, to be doing, to have done, to have been doing).

1. It appears that he has been working on this project for years.
He _____ on this project for years.
2. It seems that she has made a big mistake.
She _____ a big mistake.
3. It appears that the train is running late again.
The train _____ late again.
4. It seems that she has been thinking about changing jobs for a while.
She _____ about changing jobs for a while.
5. It seems that he enjoys talking about politics.
He _____ talking about politics.
6. It seems that he has lost interest in the conversation.
He _____ interest in the conversation.
7. It seems that he has forgotten his wallet at home.
He _____ his wallet at home.
8. It seems that the company has been struggling financially.
The company _____ financially.
9. It seems that she is thinking about something serious.
She _____ about something serious.
10. It appears that he has misunderstood the instructions.
He _____ the instructions.
11. It appears that the baby needs some sleep.
The baby _____ some sleep.
12. It seems that the students are listening carefully.
The students _____ carefully.
13. It seems that he is working on something important.
He _____ on something important.
14. It seems that the instructions make no sense.
The instructions _____ no sense.
15. It appears that the company supports eco-friendly initiatives.
The company _____ eco-friendly initiatives.

16. It appears that she is texting someone right now.
She _____ someone right now.
17. It appears that she has been waiting for a long time.
She _____ for a long time.
18. It appears that the baby is crying in the other room.
The baby _____ in the other room.
19. It seems that he has been searching for a new apartment for months.
He _____ for a new apartment for months.
20. It appears that she has finished her project early.
She _____ her project early.
21. It seems that the guests have left already.
The guests _____ already.
22. It seems that this solution works well for everyone.
This solution _____ well for everyone.