

Choose the correct verb to complete the sentences.

1. I don't get on with my boss. Do you think I _____ look for another job?
2. We're giving Tom a surprise birthday party. You _____ tell him about it.
3. Please Dad, _____ I go to Tom's party? It'll be great.
4. You _____ drive on the left in Britain
5. Do you _____ wear a uniform in your job?
6. Are you _____ take mobile phones to school?
7. I _____ go to bed early when I was a child
8. You _____ go to England to learn English, but it's a good idea.

Read the text.

Education in Victorian England
1832–1901

In Victorian England education played a very small role in most children's lives. In 1840 only 20% of children had any schooling at all. Then, in 1870 an Education Act was passed which said that children aged 5–10 should attend school. However, many parents preferred their children to work and earn money for their families. It was not until 1880 that all children had to attend school until the age of 10. Then, in 1899 the school leaving age was raised to 12.

Decide which is true:

- 1) In 1870 children _____ go to school.
- 2) In 1880 children _____ go to school until they were 10.
- 3) In 1899 children _____ leave school until they were 12.

Read the school rules and complete with weren't allowed to / had to / didn't have to /

- 1) Boys and girls had to enter school through different doors.
- 2) Children _____ call teachers "Sir" or "Ma'am".
- 3) Children _____ ask questions.
- 4) Children _____ stand up to answer questions.
- 5) Children _____ do any sports.
- 6) Boys _____ do woodwork. Girls _____ do needlework.
- 7) Children _____ use their left hand for writing.
- 8) Female teachers _____ get married.