Yesterday was awesome! My friends came over for a party. First, we listened to music really loud and danced in the living room. It was so much fun! Then, Leo played the guitar for us. He knows lots of cool songs. After that, we got super silly and jumped in beds – my mom wasn't too happy about that later! We also watched a movie with lots of popcorn. It was Shrek, and we all laughed a lot. Before everyone went home, we even cleaned the house together. It was a great party, and I was really tired but happy afterwards.
