

READING

A IDENTIFY SUPPORTING DETAILS Check the statements that are true, according to the article. Write X next to the statements that are not true. Explain your answers.

- ☐ 1 In most of Europe, a thumb and an index finger mean "two."

- ☐ 2 In North America, a thumb and a pinkie mean "two."

- ☐ 3 Japanese point at pictures with an open palm facing up.

- ☐ 4 To be friendly, North Americans greet others with a light handshake.

- ☐ 5 Everyone uses the thumbs-up sign for "that's good."

“True. Galloway says most Europeans begin with the thumb. So the index finger is the next finger after that.”