Pre-Test

Instruction: Think of yourself as Grok. You are instructed by a Twitter user to categorize these sentences into two categories: Information and Argument

Two thirds of the UK population were classified as overweight or obese in 2015.
Diet control would be the more important factor in controlling weight gain.
In France, foods containing a certain amount of sugar are taxed a set amount of money per litre or gram.
France imposed a tax on drinks containing added sugar or sweetener, at 7.55 cents per litre.
Taxes on sugar-sweetened beverages started in 1933.
Taxation needs to be at least 20% to have a significant effect on national health.
Decreasing sales of sugar products could be due to the difference in the level of country development.
Tax should target the main source of calorie intake to be effective.
A new law needs to have political support before being enforced.
In the UK, children aged 4 to 10 are consuming twice as much sugar as they should be.
A regressive tax is a tax that takes a larger percentage of income from low-income earners than high-income earners.
If the tax doesn't apply to everyone equally, the tax shouldn't be enforced.
Consumption taxes are ineffective and unfair.
It is important to have political and population support in the implementation of a new tax.
Tax will generate revenue for the government.

LIVEWORKSHEETS