Computers are very useful in our modern life.

People use computers in schools, offices, hospitals, and even at home. At school, teachers use computers to prepare lessons, and students use them to study and do homework. In offices, people use computers to write emails, make presentations, and store information. Doctors use computers to check patients' health and keep medical records. At home, people use computers to watch movies, play games, and connect with friends.

Computers help people work faster and more easily. However, we should not spend too much time on them because it can be bad for our eyes and health.
