

Name: _____

vocabulary ____ / 16p

VOCABULARY1 Complete the words in the sentences. [UNIT 3]

Example: You mustn't speak so critically of Martha – she's your own flesh and blood!

- 1 I'll always support your decisions, come what m_____.
- 2 The variation in results led the researchers to c_____ that some of the testing equipment may have been faulty.
- 3 A Did you get caught in that heavy downpour?
B Yes, I'm absolutely soaked. I must be a sorry s_____!
- 4 In order to tackle climate change effectively, governments will need to p_____ the environment at the summit meeting.
- 5 I just can't find my keys anywhere. They seem to have v_____ into thin air!
- 6 The results of the latest study are currently being a_____ by experts.
- 7 Matteo tried to apologize to Maria again but she sent him p_____!
- 8 Sales rose steadily, reaching a p_____ around mid-May before gradually decreasing again.
- 9 The study has r_____ that many older people are considerably younger than their chronological age.

9

2 Complete the phrases in the sentences. [UNIT 4]

Example: We're going to a play about the life and times of Shakespeare this evening.

- 1 I've almost finished my project. I have a few o_____ and e_____ left to do.
- 2 A What was that new Italian restaurant you went to on Friday like?
B Oh, it was great – c_____ and c_____ – perfect for us poor students!
- 3 Calum's exam results were a bit h_____ and m_____. Some excellent grades and some not as good as he'd hoped but he'll still be able to get onto the college course he wanted.
- 4 Oh, I've been sitting down too long – I've got p_____ and n_____ in my left leg!
- 5 A Did you tell Jack he could go out tonight?
B Yes, but I said he could only go if he had finished his assignment, and no i_____ or b_____ about it!
- 6 I'm sorry but our decision is final – everything is c_____ and d_____.
- 7 I wish they'd include more positive news stories. It's always just d_____ and g_____!