Dolphins are animals that live in the sea. They are not fish — they are mammals (động vật có vú). Dolphins breathe air (hít thở không khí), so they come up to the top of the water to breathe. Dolphins are very smart. They live in groups and like to play. They make sounds like clicks and whistles (tiếng lách cách và tiếng huýt sáo) to talk to each other. Dolphins eat fish. They use sound to find food in the water. But dolphins are in danger. Some people throw trash into the sea or use big fishing nets. This can hurt (gây hại) dolphins.
