

The Female Reproductive System

_____ is where the eggs are produced. This is also known as the female reproductive cell.

_____ is the process in a woman of discharging blood and other materials from the lining of the uterus.

_____ is a hormone responsible for preparing the uterus for pregnancy.

_____ is a pear-shaped organ. It is also the area where the unborn baby develops.

This usually occurs every 28 days. _____ is also when a mature egg is released during the menstrual cycle.

_____ is a hormone responsible for the development of fetal female traits.

_____ is the lower end of the uterus. Needs to dilate to 10 cm during labor before the fetus can be born.

Complete the concept map on female reproductive system, using terms and phrases from the electronic text

The Female Reproductive System
Concept Map