Basketball Fashion

Have you noticed how comfortable basketball uniforms look these days? Your favorite team probably wears long shorts and a loose-fitting shirt, or jersey. These are practical clothes for people who run and jump.
Teams haven't always worn such comfortable outfits. Like other fashion trends, basketball uniforms have changed over time. At first, there was no uniform at all – people just played in their regular clothes. Men played basketball in long pants, and women played in long dresses or skirts.
Once basketball became popular, uniforms helped identify the teams. But the uniforms were still not practical. They were made from materials such as wool that were thick and hot. Luckily, these uniforms have been replaced by lighter and cooler ones.
