LIVING IN THE ICE AGE

I'm a scientist and I arrived here in Antarctica three months ago in December. The temperature is cold but not unpleasant yet. Since arriving, I have worked with about 60 other people getting everything ready for the Antarctica winter. It's been a lot of hard work, but it was fun too. However, few days ago the ship left taking most of the staff with it and it won't be back to fetch it until next December. So the hardest thing to get used to is that there are now just fourteen of us because I'm used to working in a large company.

I'm living on the same work station I was on ten years ago. It was new then and it's still in good condition and unchanged. The dried food we get is also the same you forget what real food taste like after a few weeks. The people working here with me are different from then, but I'm always happy getting to know new people. Ten years ago, we were all able to send faxes to friends and family once a month, but today we can send emails and talk on the phone so we don't feel so far away.

1. What is the writer's main purpose of writing the passage?
A. to complain about his life in Antarctica
B. to make life in Antarctica better
C. to describe his own experiences in Antarctica
D. to ask people to work in Antarctica
2. The word "hardest" in the passage is CLOSEST in meaning to _____.
A. most boring B. most interesting C. most expensive D. most difficult
3. How many people are currently at the work station?
A. About 60 people, as it was during the preparation
B. 14 people, a much smaller team than before
C. 10 people, less than in the past
D. 1 person, working alone
4. What has changed about communication since ten years ago?
A. People can now send faxes more often
B. There is no way to communicate at all
C. Emails and phone calls are now available
D. Only letters can be sent to family
5. Ten years ago, what was the writer able to send his friends and family once a month?
A. phone B. faxes C. food D. emails
6. The word "dried" in paragraph 2 is OPPOSITE in meaning to _____.
A. fresh B. salty C. spoiled D. preserved
