Dodgeball is a popular team sport. There are two teams and six balls in a dodgeball game. Each team tries to eliminate the players in the other team. When you eliminate players, they are "out" and they must leave the game. How do you do this? You must throw a ball and hit the players, but you mustn't hit them on the head. You can't hit them easily because they can jump or run away from the ball. They can also catch the ball, and then you are "out"! Of course, the players in the other team have also got balls and they throw them at you, so the game moves very fast. When all the players of one team are "out", the other team is the winner.
