White bear from Arctic

The polar bear is a large carnivorous animal that lives in the arctic. It is also known as the white bear.

Polar bears have _____ white fur that helps them stay warm and blend in with the snow. Their skin underneath is _____ to absorb heat. They have a _____ body, _____ ears, a long neck, and very strong legs. Their paws are wide and covered in _____, which helps them _____ on ice and swim in cold water.

Polar bears _____ in the arctic region, on ice sheets and along the coast. They need sea ice to hunt their main prey, seals.

Polar bears are great swimmers. They can _____ for hours and even long distances between icebergs. They _____ seals by waiting near breathing holes in the ice. Polar bears usually live alone and travel across large areas in search of food. They _____ during the day and hunt mostly at night.

LIVEWORKSHEETS